EDITORIAL COMMENT.

Come on in, Greece. The fightin' is fine.

When Rumania gets into Hungary, she expects to Ruman.

The war bids fair to be ended where it started—in the Balkans.

A. Sleeper, of Bad Axe, is the probable Republican nominee for Governor in Michigan.

Democratic prospects in the Maine election of Sept. 11 are getting brighter every day.

Mayfield has passed an ordinance requiring automobiles to dim their headlights. The same sort of a law is needed everywhere.

Cole L. Blease is one of the contending men in the South Carolina gubernatorial primary and will be in the run-off.

Greece is practically sure to join the allies. She must to so to share in the partition of Bulgaria, Turkey and Austria at the end of the war.

The Kaiser has swapped horses in the middle of a swollen and turbulent stream. Hindenburg has replaced Falkenhayn as general staff head.

Miss Norma Mack, daughter of National Committeeman Norman Mack, is the first woman to fly over Niagara Falls. She accompanied Aviator Phil Rader.

Rumania's prize in the war is to be a big slice of Austrian territory with 4,000,000 people and the province of Bessarabia from Russia with 2,000,000 more. This will about double her territory and population.

The run-off in Texas shows that Culberson was everybody's second choice for Senator. He ran 75,000 ahead of Conquitt, who beat him 30,000 in the first heat, with five in the field.

England says the Bremen was caught in a riot Aug. 4. Germany says the Bremen has just started to America with a load of dyestuffs and chemicals. Concentrated lye must be one of them.

Judge Bush, who was designated to try out a Republican contest now in the Eastern Appellate district, very wisely asked to be excused. With three courts and a canvass on his hands, his busy season has already opened.

The Third Kentucky Regiment left Ft. Thomas for El Paso, Texas, last night and will pass through Guthrie en route to Memphis at an early hour this morning. The Second Regiment left Tuesday night. The First will start tonight. All are ordered to Tobin, Texas, near El Paso.

At Ft. Wayne, Ind., a railroad watchman has sued for $5,000 damages, alleging that a blood vessel was ruptured causing paralysis when an engine passing his shanty blew its whistle too loud. The unfortunate watchman must have been awakened too suddenly from a sound sleep. The engineer should have sent a flagman ahead to tap him gently on the shoulder.

At Sullivan, Ind., a bumble bee caused the wreck of an automobile driven by W. L. Sisson, surveyor of Sullivan county, when the insect crawled up a trouser leg and stung him, causing him to lose control of the machine, which plunged into a ditch. Sisson escaped serious injury but the automobile was wrecked. A man of such a nervous and excitable temperament as to lose his head, even with his breeches full of bumble bees, ought not to trust himself to run an automobile, a business in which a cool head is absolutely essential. In this case, though, it must be admitted that the heat was not applied altogether to the head. Sisson, however, should have stopped the machine and calmly removed his pantaloons without getting excited.

RAILROAD STRIKE IS ORDERED FOR SEPTEMBER 4

President Wilson Unable To Bring About Agreement, Lays The Situation Before Congress.

WORKMEN REJECT ARBITRATION PROPOSAL

Roads Conceded Eight Hour Day, The Resultant Increase of Wages To Be Matter For Arbitration---Strikers Refuse To Compromise.

Washington, Aug. 30.—With President Wilson laying the strike situation before congress with recommendations for legislation, advanced the crisis to a stage where the next developments depend upon two points. They are:

Whether the legislation he proposes can be passed?

If enacted, will it be effective to prevent a strike already called for 7 a. m. Sept. 4?

Neither of these questions can be answered today.

The brotherhood heads themselves announcing their intention to fight certain portions of the president's program, are at loggerheads over whether its enactment would prevent the strike.

The railroad presidents favorable to President Wilson's plan in the main, think it would make it difficult for the strike to begin.

SUPERHUMAN EFFORTS MADE.

Meanwhile although negotiations between the employers and men were broken off by the rejection of the railroad president's proposal for arbitration, President Wilson is continuing his efforts to bring the two sides together on some form of agreement. Efforts which might well be described as almost superhuman, are being exerted to that end.

When the brotherhood leaders this morning rejected the latest proposal of the railroads and definitely set the strike for Labor Day, without further notice, President Wilson decided to lay the whole situation before congress. Before a joint session of the house and senate and with a solemn recital of the distress and disaster a strike would bring to the country, the president proposed a plan of legislation. This is the proposal in his own language:

WILSON'S PROPOSAL TO CONGRESS.

First, immediate provision for the enlargement and administrative reorganization of the interstate commerce commission along the lines embodied in the bill recently passed by the house of representatives and now awaiting action by the senate; in order that the commission may be enabled to deal with the many great and various duties now devolving upon it with a promptness and thoroughness which are with its present constitution and means of action practically impossible.

Second, the establishment of an 8-hour day as the legal basis alike of work and wages in the employment of all railway employees who are actually engaged in the work of operating trains in interstate transportation.

Third, the authorization of the appointment by the president of a small body of men to observe the actual results in experience of the adoption of the 8-hour day in railroad transportation alike for the men and the railroads; its effect in the matter of operation cost in application of the existing practices and agreements to the new conditions and in all other practical aspects, with the provision that the investigators shall report their conclusions to congress at the earliest possible date, but without recommendation as to the legislative action; in order that the public may learn from an unprejudiced source just what actual developments have ensued.

Fourth, explicit approval by the congress of the consideration by the interstate commerce commission of an increase of freight rates to meet such

RUMANIAN KING HEADS TROOPS

Orders General Mobilization of Forces and Personally Goes to the Front.

VIENNA ADMITS REVERSE

Greece About Ready to Follow Example of Rumania and Join the Allies.

London, Aug. 30.—King Ferdinand of Rumania has ordered a general mobilization of his forces and is reported to have gone to the front personally to take command of his army.

The Rumanians already are reported to be making furious efforts to capture passes in the eastern Carpathians leading into Hungary and are declared to be fighting shoulder to shoulder with Russian troops coming from Bukovina.

While Berlin says that Rumania's attempts to pierce the passes have been futile, Vienna admits that owing to a "far reaching encircling movement by strong Rumanian forces," Austrian advanced detachments have been forced to withdraw.

What Greece's attitude will be as a result of Rumania's joining the entente allies is still problematical but unofficial advices to London express the belief that she soon will join with the entente.

Occupation by the Bulgarians of Kavala is declared to have intensified the feelings of the Greeks who are said to be willing to follow former Premier Venizelos in any action he may advise. Venizelos is strongly pro-entente.

None of the belligerents claim any great battle. There is still artillery activity in the Pozieres region. Along the front held by the French bad weather halted operations.

ASSESSOR STARTS WORK FRIDAY

County Assessor W. J. McGee will start to work on his annual assessment tomorrow, Sept. 1st, with the following corps of assistants:

BUSH ONLY CANDIDATE

And Committee Nominated Him at Eddyville Tuesday.

WELLS GOT OUT OF RACE

Election is For Something More Than Five Years.

JUDGE C. H. BUSH.

At a most harmonious meeting held at Eddyville Tuesday morning by the Democratic Executive Committee of the Third Judicial district Judge Charles H. Bush was named for the unexpired portion of the term of Judge J. T. Hanbery, who died August 6.

The members of the Committee who took this action were: L. J. Harris, Christian county, chairman; Joe Lancaster, of Calloway county, secretary; J. Frank Ladd, of Trigg county; W. A. Sexton, of Lyon county.

The committee met in the circuit court room at 10 o'clock, circuit court being adjourned to accommodate them.

Only two candidates were in the race, these being Judge Bush and Rainey T. Wells, of Murray. Before the committee took action Mr. Wells made a graceful speech, in which he withdrew from the race, declaring that he desired the utmost harmony to exist in Democratic ranks this year and he was willing to sacrifice his own personal desires to eliminate possible friction that might arise if a contest were raised over the nomination.

Following this the committee had no choice except to give the nomination to Judge Bush without further formality. Judge Bush made a speech expressing his appreciation and especially for Mr. Wells' generous action in withdrawing.

Judge Bush is now serving as judge of this district, having been appointed by Governor Stanley to act until an election could be held. The election will be held at the regular election in November for the little over five years yet remaining of Judge Hanbery's term.

SCHOOL TO TAKE HOLIDAY

On Friday and Special Program at Fair That Day.

County School Superintendent L. E. Foster has proclaimed Friday a holiday for the county schools. All the schools now in session will be dismissed and a regular holiday will be enjoyed. About fifty-five schools will be let out. All the schools north of town are in session and the people of that part of the county will make a special occasion of the day.

Children's day, on Friday, is expected to be one of the biggest days of the fair. A feature program, the best of the week, has been prepared.

TO ELECT A MAYOR

Commissioners Call An Election Under New Law to Fill Vacancy.

DIFFERENT OPINIONS HELD

Colored People Kick Against Presentation of "Birth of a Nation."

At the meeting of the City Commissioners Tuesday it was ordered that an election be held this fall to fill the vacancy created in the office of mayor by the resignation of Mayor Yost. The commission law requires vacancies under the law to be filled by election after nominations have been made the middle of October, but the present term of mayor was not affected by the law. Mayor Yost's salary was $600 and he was appointed. Many hold that his successor should be appointed by the commissioners and it seems clear that the salary must remain unchanged during the present term, which expires Jan. 1, 1918. Mayor Pro Tem F. H. Bassett has concluded to hold on to his present office and salary of $1,800. City Attorney Breathitt has held that the new mayor should be elected and will be entitled to the salary of $1,800 fixed for commissioners. Other lawyers do not agree with this construction and prospective candidates for mayor are up in the air.

The commissioners did not fix a salary for the office of mayor, when other salaries were fixed. If the salary is to be fixed at $1,800, some aspirants would like to have it, who would not care for the office at $600.

Among those already mentioned for the office are C. O. Prowse, Odie Davis, R. M. Wooldridge, R. H. Holland, R. T. Stowe, N. A. Barnett and several others.

At the same meeting a delegation of colored people headed by F. S. Foreman made a formal protest against the showing here of "The Birth of a Nation" which is scheduled for Sept. 15 and 16, at the fairgrounds. Action was postponed until Friday, when both sides were to meet.

FIRST IN KING.

ODIE DAVIS.

Odie Davis is the first candidate to throw his hat into the ring for Mayor and he will go after the office with his customary vigor and energy. He is a Republican and one of the city's progressive and successful business men. Watch him run.

A smiling sun looked down on a happy scene in the Pennyroyal Fair grounds yesterday and Tuesday. If opening days could be made to order like fall suits sent C. O. D., you couldn't have tailored one that would have suited the tastes of the people of Hopkinsville better than Tuesday. It was simply great.

Beginning early in the morning people began to pour in. By afternoon the machinery was running like a super-six and Secretary John Richards was grinning so widely that he almost bit his ears. "All we want is good weather," the directors have been saying for two months and they guessed right. The crowd squeezed in through the good old gate until it almost broke it open. Many estimated the attendance as the largest that has ever attended the Pennyroyal Fair.

But the size wasn't what tickled President Cowherd, who really pulls the strings. What tasted good to him was the way all were enjoying themselves.

HOPTOWN HAS THE STUFF.

The city of Hopkinsville certainly arose to the occasion. The industrial parade was all to the good. It was one of the most unique things ever perpetrated in these parts. The Mayor and Commissioner headed the body of the parade. Before them as an escort of honor rode officers Jim Cliborne and Harvey Nixon of the H. P. D. looking as dignified as the occasion demanded. All the city wagons, even the water wagon, were in the parade.

Hopkinsville people came out in great droves and were never happier in spirit. The shuttle train carried large crowds as did the "jitneys" and private vehicles.

The Metropolitan Shows on "Pleasure Avenue" played to big crowds. The shows are all good and add greatly to the fair. They gave "You Go First" bow to the speed rings in the afternoon but began immediately after the contests were over. The Flying Winnies or weenies or something took the platform in front of the grandstand and gave one of their chilling acrobatic performances. It was one of those wonderful stunts that makes you afraid they will hurt themselves all the time. They haven't yet.

AS FOR THE RACES.

The speed program was good. The most exciting was the running race. Stanley West, he who is cognomened "Skeet" which is short for mosquito, came wagging a weary foot across the centerfield pull main force his horse, "P. J.," that is about the color of "P. J." that liquid. He grabbed a boy and shoved him on her. The horse kicked around and somebody yelled "Hold her Newt, she's headed for the barn." He dragged her up to the barrier, or rather to where the barrier would have been if there had been one. The other horses had been there waiting several minutes. As he dragged his horse up the starter called "Go."

And then! That horse jumped like a frightened hare and danced twenty lengths in front. Her jockey had to pull her hard to keep her back with the bunch. It was a one horse race and Skeet's Ryola was the one horse.

WHAT'S GOING ON.

One of the good sales has been that of Clarence Freeman, of Trigg county, to John H. Williams, of Christian county.

The railroad strike ordered for next Monday will hurt labor unions worse than the railroads. The demand for an 8-hour day at ten hours pay is unreasonable and even congressional authority to increase freight rates would not make it right.

 ers, explains that his first alliance

Petitions seeking to call an election to vote on a commission form of city government, have been filed with County Judge Young at Henderson.
 The petitions contain the signatures of 786 legal voters of that city, which is more than the required 20 per cent needed to call an election. Judge Young will take action on the petitions shortly and will order the election to be held on the regular election day in November. It is supposed to have a mayor and two commissioners elected to take office in December, 1917, as the present councilmen's terms will not expire until then.

Rumania's declaration of war is regarded in official circles as of far reaching significance. The foreign office points out three striking benefits—the aid of the substantial Rumanian army, which, pitted against Austria, will lessen Russia's task and will afford greater freedom of action on the left wing of the western front; the tightening of the ring around the central empires and the opening of a new line of attack; the cutting off of grain supplies to the Austro-Germans, upon which the latter are believed to have placed great reliance. Recent dispatches from Bucharest indicated that the sale of the entire Rumanian crop had virtually been arranged for and that shipping of the grain had already begun.

PROTEST AGAINST COUNCIL

To the Tobacco Growers of the Dark Tobacco District:

The now infamous "Order in Council" which made the Dark Tobacco District near bankrupt last year has been re-enacted. The effect of this Order is to put an embargo on all shipments of dark tobacco to Germany or Austria after August 31st. This will include what is termed Scandinavian Europe, Denmark, Holland, Belgium and Switzerland, also Sweden and Norway. These countries under normal conditions purchase at least one hundred millions of pounds of our dark tobacco. Scandinavian Europe takes her requirements largely through Bremen. Germany produces a large portion of her consumption.
 So does Austria and Hungary. For two years, or since the war began, this production has been greatly curtailed. Their stocks of tobacco are exhausted. Germany and Austria, therefore, on a free, open market would take one-third of our large crop of tobacco at a high figure. England has a low selfish purpose in cutting off shipments of tobacco to Germany and Austria. Tobacco is not an article of contraband, because it is not a food or war necessity. Every dollar that Germany or Austria puts into tobacco lowers her financial efficiency just this much. England is furnishing the finances for Italy and France. Italy and France's production of tobacco is practically cut off on account of belligerent conditions.
 According to a government report France will need and require out of this crop double her usual purchase.
 Italy for her own consumption and for the need of the Regie governments will require a large increase over her average purchase. England is underwriting the finances of both countries. If the market in the "Black Patch" is allowed to open with the active, aggressive competition which the German and Austrian buyers will afford, England with its acute financial eyes sees that the French-Italian purchase will cost from forty to sixty millions more money than if competition is throttled. The black list on tobacco, therefore, is not a war measure. It's a shrewd financial policy, conceived by a cold, calculating financier. It is purely English in all its characteristics. The plan in all its features is premeditated to take sixty millions out of the pockets of the dark tobacco growers and put it in the British coffers; and to hide the infamy of this damnable burglary by proclaiming it to be a war measure.

The Government at Washington can give relief. Shall the tobacco grower be exploited and his sweat money taken away under the very eyes of Congress without a protest or a demand to "stop thief?" Shall Kentucky and Tennessee farmers be thus victimized and required to bear the burdens of a European War? The recent Merchant Black List promulgated by the English Government has been modified, so that same is no longer objectionable. This was the result of a vigorous protest from Washington, and a threat of retaliatory measures. The embargo on tobacco shipments to Germany and Austria can be removed in the same way. If our Government will only say to England that this embargo must be lifted or the Government of the United States will be forced to prohibit all or certain grain shipments on and after August 31st, then no one doubts the result. If Washington wavers or vacillates, the embargo will remain until the war ends.

In the condition that confronts us, the Federal Government is the only power that can step between and divert a financial disaster. Delegations of strong men from Mayfield, Paducah, Murray, Hopkinsville, Clarksville, Springfield, Guthrie, Elkton, Russellville, Madisonville and Henderson are leaving today for Washington for a conference with Senators and Representatives for Monday. Delegates are being sent from Virginia and North Carolina. Nothing will be left undone or unsaid to emphasize the importance of the situation. We believe that Congress and the President will take action, and that relief will come in this way. If Congress stops to debate and adjournment should find the embargo intact, the only alternative remaining to the tobacco grower, as occurs to me now, is for the growers themselves to adopt retaliatory measures by refusing to sell England or her allies a pound of tobacco until she lifts the embargo. If I can find time I shall report from Washington the results of the conference.

Yours for success,
 W. T. FOWLER.

The Real Treasure.

Poor, indeed, is he who has no friends. Love is an exclusive sentiment and sometimes an exciting one.
 It is through our friends that much of our happiness comes. A true friend is to be appreciated and treasured.
 Friendship's bond is one not to be lightly broken. To have friends, we must be friends. The real friend does not easily take offense. Openness brings friends closer together in thought and feeling. There must be confidence and it must never be bettrayed. "To suspect a friend is worse than to be deceived by him," said La Rochefoucauld. If, when offense is given, one does not give way to impatience, but gives ample opportunity for explanation or excuse, it will often be found that there was no real grievance. Have forgiveness ready in the heart—a complete forgiveness which puts anger so far away that it is soon forgotten. No human being is perfect and forgiveness ennobles the character. If you have one true friend, be grateful and kind and hold him to you with hoops of steel. Cultivate friendships by being kind, helpful and considerate. And remember: "Friend-

WEIGHING MILK FROM A COW

Estimated That Less Than Two Hours Per Year Required—Farmer Must Know Production.

It has been estimated that less than two hours per year are required for weighing the milk from a cow. Can any cow owner afford to milk a cow and not know what she produced during the year? No, not any more than a farmer or any other business man can afford to hire a man without making arrangements as to the amount he is to pay him, and without knowing something about what kind of work he can do.

SAVING ALL LIQUID MANURE

Important That Plenty of Bedding Be Used—Some Farmers Employ a Catch-Clster.

Over half the manurial value of the feed leaves the cow in the urine, therefore it is important that plenty of bedding be used and absorbents in the gutters to save all liquids. Some use a catch-clster and liquid sprinkler, but the other plan is more simple and does well enough if the manure is not allowed to ferment or leach out before application to the soil.

Peat Bogs.

The peat bogs of Ireland have been so persistently emphasized in all economic discussions of the Irish people, as well as in the literature of the country, that the average individual has come to think of this island as having a virtual bog monopoly, but as a matter of fact, there are 18 times as many square miles of such land in the United States and Canada as there are in Ireland, while continental Europe's bogs aggregate an area as extensive as that of the French republic. Not all bogs produce fuel peat, however.

Mocha and Java.

Once famous for its coffee, Mocha has little left today but its olden name. At that period the Arabian province of Yemen, of which Mocha was the chief seaport, supplied practically all the berries used. At the end of the seventeenth century the coffee plant was introduced into Java and in a short time "Mocha and Java" became a trade name of great popularity.

18 VILLA BANDITS SHOT

Body of Notorious Outlaw, Ferniza, Hung Up in Plaza
As Object Lesson.

Chihuahua City, Aug. 30.—In a fight with a band of Villa followers at Corralitos, close to the Durango line, the forces of Gen. Doningo Arrieta took eighteen prisoners, who were immediately tried by a drumhead court-martial and shot, according to official reports received today by Gen. Trevino. The body of the notorious bandit, Ferniza, found among the rebels slain, was taken into the town of Matamoros, near Torreón, and hung up in the plaza as an object lesson to Villa sympathizers.

None of the prisoners taken in this fight or those taken in the action at Satevo a few days ago, were able to say whether or not Villa was alive.

Col. Campos, of the Arrieta brigade, was dangerously wounded. It was at Corralitos that Gen. Ignacio Ramos was killed by Villa's men a short time ago.

A Silent Salesman.

Many manufacturers of machinery that is too heavy or too bulky to be sent for inspection to a prospective customer now give their traveling salesmen sets of motion pictures that show exactly how the machines work. According to the Engineering Magazine, the salesmen carry small, light motion-picture projectors that can be connected with the lighting circuit in the office of the customer. A blank wall serves for a screen. Since the motion picture is independent of the seasons, the salesman can show a harvester at work in winter or a seeder or planter in the fall. The films also help to overcome the instinctive opposition that many buyers of machinery and equipment display toward new apparatus and new methods. Such men will not listen to the salesman or go to see the new machine in operation, but they will look at the motion pictures.—Youth's Companion.

Remarkable Reptiles.

During the time of deposition of the clays constituting the Morrison shale in southern Colorado there existed a great variety of remarkable reptiles of huge size. Their bones, which are in places abundant, are the remains of animals that were mired in the soft clay of which the Morrison formation largely consists. Some of these creatures, such as the Brontosaurus were 60 feet long. Many of them had remarkably small heads, notably the Stegosaurus, which had so diminutive a brain that it must have been very stupid. This animal was undoubtedly very clumsy also, but its huge size and protective armor aided in its preservation.—U. S. Geological Survey.

Two persons were killed and eight injured, one probably fatally, when eleven of fourteen autos competing in a race at Kalmazoo piled up on a turn.

Small Things.

As with music, so with poetry it is the little things that pay. Many an indifferent composer has made more out of a single song or waltz than Sir Edward Elgar has made out of "The Dream of Gerontius," and many a poet has received more for a brief lyric than he can hope to get for work that may have cost him months or years of labor. Indeed, a volume of verse often makes less for the author than he receives for three or four pieces printed in magazines or newspapers. It is the same with less exalted matters. The inventor of a patent collar stud or boot protector will make more money than the inventor of something that really benefits the human race. The little thing that every one wants is the thing that pays, whether in trade or art. Heroic accomplishment has the heroic reward of starvation.

Making Friends.

This making of friends is one of the best things about a vacation. It is just as truly recreating your life as are the muscular exercise and the opening of your lungs to deep drafts of pure air. It is opening your soul to fresh human influence, widening your sympathies, giving you one more anchor to windward, one more stake in life. All that may be put down with the friendship possibilities of a vacation, and with all that store of new health to seek, it oughtn't to be necessary to say much about the kind of friend to look for. There is only one kind of friend worth having—only one kind worth bothering about even for the pastime of a week or two.

Another man who never believed in God tells how he found God working by his side in his own office. A man who thought he was never appreciated in his work writes about his experiences and what he has learned in humility.

The fiction matches the articles for there are stories by well known writers as well as new ones. "The Haunted House," by Ellis Parker Bulter, "Better See the Doctor," "The Strike at Tiverton Manor," "Pics" by Jack Latt, "The Harpered Fledgling," by Walter P. Eaton, and "The Winning Hand" complete the short stories. There is also a generous installment of "Between Two Worlds" the serial by Philip Curtiss.

Among the other good things in the magazine are articles on golf by Jerome Travers, actors' salaries by Renold Wolfe, the state article on New Hampshire by Winston Churchill, and the ideas of a writer who advocates changing your job after fifty.

The interesting People department contains good stories about Admiral Dewey, a man who caught a 30,000 pound fish, and a circus bareback rider. The Family's Money tells of some experiences in the art of saving your coins.

FORMAL PROTEST TO BE MADE

Covers Tobacco Situation Resulting From War—Growers Are Up In Arms.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Growers of dark tobacco worked until almost midnight Monday, preparing a formal protest, to be presented to Secretary of State Lansing Tuesday, against Great Britain's restoration of embargo on tobacco to Germany and Austria.

The protest is intended to cover the entire tobacco situation growing out of the war and is to cite the serious financial losses now faced by growers in the Black Patch, who are now cutting the largest crop in several years.

Representatives David H. Kincheloe and Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, and James Bryns, of Tennessee, are members of the committee which drafted the resolutions of protest.

Prior to the meeting of this committee a large body, composed of three growers from each of the States and Senators Shields and Lea, of Tennessee, discussed the possibility of urging an amendment to the pending revenue bill which would instruct the President to take retaliatory steps against Great Britain for the nation's interference with the commerce of the United States in a product that never has been considered contraband.

The tobacco men applauded Senator Martin, of Virginia, when he declared that England will pay a great deal more attention to the protests of the State Department if they are coupled with threats to cut off the shipment of some of the necessities of war than she has in the past, when the complaints were based upon what is right. Between 75 and 100 dark tobacco men attended the conference. The purpose of the first meeting was to discuss with their Senators and Representatives the plans of laying the tobacco embargo matter before the State Department.

Kentucky is taking the leading role in the conference. The meetings have been arranged by Senator James and R. F. Cooper, of Hopkinsville, spokesman for the Kentuckians.

Mr. Martin, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina, also were represented at the conference. Senators James and Beckham and Representative Alben W. Barkley, David H. Kincheloe and Ben Johnson represented the Kentucky delegation in the House. Senators Martin, of Virginia; Swanson, of West Virginia; and Lee, of Maryland, and Representatives Garrett and Byrns, of Tennessee, and Glass and Flood, of Virginia, were also present.

IMMENSE LOSS IN SIGHT.

Senators James asked for views of the growers on the advisability of holding this year's crop and refusing to sell at reduced prices. Mr. Cooper declared that the maintenance of the embargo means a possible financial loss of $10,000,000 to the dark tobacco growers. Eighty per cent. of dark tobacco is exported, Mr. Cooper declared, and the growers face the prospect of no market for 75 per cent. of their crop.

"We don't know whether this embargo is the result of collusion between the English Government and the Imperial and American Tobacco Companies," said Mr. Cooper, "but we do know that the growers have a big crop ready for the market, with no way to sell it. We came here to ask protection of our Government. We ask you to stand by us and protect us."

Senator Swanson suggested that this is the first time that any national war has sought to interfere with the commerce of non-contraband to neutral countries. Joel Fort, of Springfield, Tenn., said the Government had done much to aid the production of tobacco, and now must do something to aid the growers to dispose of their crops.

"Great Britain has no regard for fair play in her relations with neutral nations," interposed Senator Martin, "and whether it be on munitions or anything else that she must buy from the United States, I think she will pay a great deal of heed to our protests if we suggest some sort of retaliatory measures than if we simply protest on the ground of what is right and fair."

When This Girl

Proposed. She Said:

"And I have tried to make it clear to you in every way I knew. I've asked you to this house, times without number. I've played tennis with you, and walked and talked with you, and ridden your rounds with you in your bumpy old milk wagon. I've simply thrown myself at your head, day after day. But you wouldn't understand. You wouldn't look at me. Now listen. You moaned about, and moped your ridiculous heart out, because you thought I was such a blind, silly fool, I couldn't look past your poverty and your ill-luck, and see how splendid you really are. Because you thought I was such a stuck-up simpleton I'd not want to marry you, because you were a milkman. When I'd drive your milk cart, I'd chase the cows for you, if you wanted me to."—September Woman's Home Companion.

THE MEN WHO MAKE THE KENTUCKY STATE FAIR

The Kentucky State Fair has not, in accordance with Topsy's idea of her earthly advent, "Jes growed," but has become the stupendous and important enterprise it is through the acumen, enterprise and executive ability of a coterie of men modestly masking their identities behind the general designations of Commissioner of Agriculture, Kentucky State Fair Secretary and State Board of Agriculture. To the average mind the State Fair blossoms yearly into a one-week splendor, pleasant to the community and prideful to the State, and little thought is given to the yeoman service rendered by the officials operating the vast machinery of this important exhibition. It is but just, however, that Kentuckians at large be made acquainted with and appreciative of the forceful officials to whom, in large measure, is due credit for the success of the Fair, and above is presented "speaking" likenesses of the members of the Board, the Commissioner, and the Secretary, who are the "men behind" the mammoth show.

Kentucky's emblem—joined hands, bespeaking union, brotherhood and loyalty, typifies the spirit which is moving and inspiring these workers for the great home coming festival, agricultural exhibition, and fall celebration, the fourteenth annual Kentucky State Fair to be held in Louisville the week of September 11-16, and a state-wide enthusiasm has been created by the zeal of these sponsors-in-chief for the greatest event in Kentucky's yearly history. From these officials, their aides, co-workers and all supporters of and "boosters" for the Kentucky State Fair, is extended the eager, enthusiastic hospitable hand of good fellowship and they urge that each and every citizen, loyal to Kentucky, will adopt the slogan: "Meet me at the Fair!" and will be on hand in person to help make this an epochal event, and one which will blaze the pages of Kentucky State Fair history.

CONCRETE WORK

On the Sedimentation Basin Has Been Completed.

Messrs. M. G. Moore and Hugh Nelson, who completed the concrete work on the new sedimentation basin in Reservoir Park on Friday afternoon, left on Saturday afternoon for their home in Hopkinsville. They made many friends during their stay in this city, all of whom will regret to learn of their departure.

The new basin will hold one million gallons of water, and is 128 feet long, 66 feet wide and sixteen feet deep, and has four rooms. It is designed to take care of the future growth for fifteen to twenty years, and is built in such a way that an addition can be made if necessary at any time. It is of the latest design, and is one of the most up-to-date sedimentation basins that has been built in the South for many years.—Bowling Green Messenger.

Fay Gets Away.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 30.—Robert Fay, said to have been a former German army officer, convicted of conspiracy against the United States in connection with munition plots in New York, escaped from the federal prison here yesterday with William Knobloch, another prisoner. Fay, who entered the prison June 23 to serve eight years, and Knobloch sentenced at New York on May 9 to serve eighteen months for using the mails to defraud, had been doing electric repair work at the prison gate.

The Best Book

Of course the best book is the Bible. The man who said the best book was the pocket book, tried to say something smart and failed.

A bank book is a better book than a pocket book. The thief might steal your pocket book, or you might lose it in many ways. It's gone for good, too. But in case of accident we will gladly supply you with another bank book and your funds will always be secured in our bank. Place your dependence on a bank book in preference to a pocket book every time. We will furnish you a nice one free any time you wish to open an account.

DAIRY

RINSE UTENSILS AFTER USE

Prevents Water in Milk From Evaporating and Solid Matter Sticking to the Vessel.

The first important rule to observe in cleaning dairy utensils is to rinse them immediately after use. This prevents the water in the milk from evaporating and the solid matter sticking to the utensil. If it is impossible to wash the utensils at once rinse them in cold or lukewarm water, so that the most of the milk will be removed before it has a chance to stick. Hot water should not be used until the milky substances have been removed with cold or lukewarm water, for the hot water will coagulate the casein in the milk so that it will stick to the tin and require a greater amount of washing before it can be removed.

After rinsing in cold or lukewarm water wash the utensils in hot water. Cold or lukewarm water is practically worthless for cleaning purposes. Use some standard brand of alkali washing powder with the hot water. The alkali powders are more desirable for the work, since they quickly and efficiently remove the milk from the tin. Powders or soaps that have grease as part of their composition do not give as satisfactory results as the alkali powders.

PUREBRED SIRES FOR DAIRY

Nowhere Does He Come So Near Being All-Important—Adda Profit to Ordinary Paying Herd.

The value of the purebred sire for every class of farm livestock is coming to be universally recognized, but nowhere does he come so near being all-important as in the dairy. In one full generation the herd header can destroy what has been years in developing in the dairy herd. If he is not of the right kind. If of the right type and breeding he can add to the ordinary paying herd that which will make it yield a handsome profit or to a highly profitable herd a higher profit still.

Haphazard methods of breeding will not produce a bull of highest quality. He must have quality ancestry on both sides and the only ancestry known to be reliable is one whose history is registered and recorded. Blood will tell, and nowhere does it speak more emphatically than in the dairy herd. The female descendants of a scrub cow consistency bred back to a purebred bull will in a few generations become purebred themselves to all intents and purposes, but each succeeding generation descending from a purebred cow and a scrub bull and bred again to scrub stock will continue to decline and the offspring of the first cross is likely not worth its keep.

If dairymen could see in the concrete sense the millions of dollars which the consistent use of nothing but purebred sires would bring to the dairy industry within ten years' time, the mission of the apostles of better breeding would be once and for all fulfilled. A purebred sire is undoubtedly the most profitable and at the same time economical investment which the dairy farmer can make.

MILK FOR NEWLY BORN CALF

Young Animals Should Receive From Eight to Ten Pounds Daily, Depending on Size.

The newly born calf should receive from eight to ten pounds of whole milk daily, depending upon the size and strength of the animal. Good Manners Help.

A merchant who returned from England just before the war broke out has been valuable ever since on the manners of the children he happened to meet abroad. Apparently American parents and schools do not lay on good manners the emphasis that they receive abroad. Yet good manners, like the gold at the foundation of all money, are current the world over. Emerson noted this: "Give a boy dress and accomplishments and you give him the mastery of palaces and fortunes wherever he goes. He has not the trouble to earn or own them; they solicit him to enter and possess." "All your Greek," Chesterfield wrote to his son, "can never advance you from secretary to envoy, or from envoy to ambassador, but your address, your air, your manner, if good, may." "The difference between a well-bred and ill-bred man is this," Samuel Johnson said. "One immediately attracts your attention, the other your aversion. You love one until you find reason to hate him; you hate the other until you find reason to love him." Civility, polished manners, mean much to a youth in his first position.—Kansas City Star.

AVERAGE HAUL OF PRODUCTS

Distance Placed at 6.5 Miles by Department of Agriculture—Good Roads Are Needed.

The federal department of agriculture states that the average haul of farm products from field to market is 6.5 miles.

The importance of good roads needs little more illustration than this. With a solid roadbed, a six-mile haul is cheap and easy. With the roads turned into mudholes, as they are in many parts of our land at the critical season, such a trip is frightfully expensive and sometimes impossible.

One Southern paper, fighting for better roads, publishes a photograph of a four-mule team hauling a single bale of cotton—500 pounds—and stuck in the mud less than a mile from the edge of the city. This is an exception, perhaps, but not a rare one.
There are thousands of cases in which it costs more to get wheat from farm to elevator than to carry it from the elevator across continents and oceans to the place where it is ground and baked into bread.—Chicago Journal.

WHY PEDIGREES ARE USEFUL

Purebred Is Result of Careful Selection and Use of Animals With Strong Points.

An animal in some ways resembles a river, which is the result of the combining of many streams. The animal is the result of the combining of the blood lines of parents, grandparents, great-grandparents and so on. If one of the streams is muddy, though the rest be clean, the whole river becomes murky, and likewise one poor ancestor will weaken the animal. That is why pedigrees are kept. They do for the animal what keeping the muddy stream from flowing into the river does for the river. The purebred is the result of careful selection and use of the animals with strong points and just as careful an elimination of those that could not add strength or quality.

Unmanned Cervantes.

The statement that Cervantes lost an arm at the battle of Lepanto is incorrect. This common mistake, as Mr.
H. E. Watts and other authorities have pointed out, is due to forged portraits and fraudulent statues. The use of his wounded left hand was never fully recovered, as he himself says, "El movimiento de la mano izquierda"— that is to say, he lost "the movement, or use, of the left hand." It is moreover, obvious that he could not have served for four years as an infantry soldier after the total loss of a hand.
There is, as a matter of fact, no portrait of Cervantes that can be proved to be contemporary, and only one for which any plausible evidence at all can be produced. So that we must be satisfied with his own description of himself as given in the prologue to the "Exemplary Novels."

ROAD BUILDING

MACHINERY FOR ROAD WORK

After One Passage Over Poorly Built Roadway Surface Is in Condition for Use.

There has been put to work on the roads in the vicinity of Philadelphia, a new and interesting piece of road-making machinery, which is attracting attention because it performs several operations at once. After one passage over a poorly built or worn-out piece of roadway, the surface has been planed, scarified, rolled and left in good condition for use. The "onceover" is all that is necessary at the time. If a roadway is treated by this machine two or three times at intervals during the early part of the season it is in reasonably good shape for months of service.

The machine, necessarily heavy, weighs about 18,000 pounds. It is drawn by a traction engine of from 25 to 40 horsepower, according to the character of the work to be performed. There are two low-hanging

Two Treatments of Roadway During Season Keep It in Excellent Condition.

blades on either side; as the machine passes along, these scrape off the surface of the road at the sides, bringing the loose earth to the center. The scarifier cuts off the hummocks in the center of the grade, which is then pucked down hard by the action of the roller. A feature of the roller's work is that the crown of the road is as nicely rounded as if done by hand.
Drainage is essential in road maintenance, but it is impossible where there is a thick growth of vegetation at the sides of the road. Three trips over the road during the spring and early summer not only place it in good condition, but keep down this vegetation for the entire summer.

The apparatus will make a roadway 30 feet wide or may be adjusted to one-half that width. While its work is most effective in rejuvenating an old road it may also be used for building new roads in connection with an ordinary tractor-blade grader.—Popular Science Monthly.

Weight of Iron Contrivance Sufficient

One of the old-style boilers without an attached firebox, or an upright one, roads in a southern state, one of these boilers was used. A hole was drilled through the center of each head, and a shaft run through them, the ends being used for hauling it over the roadway by means of a special-built frame and tongue for a team of horses. The heft of the boiler was sufficient to pack very loose soil to make a solid road bed.—Popular Mechanics.

PROFITS IN ROAD DRAGGING

Transportation to Market Is Cheap-

Good roads save money, because:
They cheapen transportation to the

They reduce the drain upon capital

They prevent waste of time, and
"time is money."
They add to the joy of living, and joy adds to the effectiveness of life.

UNDER 15 YEARS LEASE

Handsome and Up-To-Date

J. H. Anderson, of Knoxville, Tenn., owner of the vacant lot on Main street, between 8th and 9th streets, has entered into a contract to erect a building 30 feet front on a portion of the lot next to Keach's Furniture store, which has been leased 15 years to the F. W. Woolworth Co., of New York.

The deal had been pending for over a month, but could not be consummated until officially acted upon by the board of directors of the Woolworth Co. at their regular meeting in New York. The building will be entirely occupied by the F. W. Woolworth Company, which owns a circuit of 888 stores in the United States. It will be exclusively a five and ten cent store, the price of one dime never being exceeded for articles.

John T. Waller is busy making the plans. As soon as the design and specifications are completed, building contracts will be let. The store will be completed and ready for occupancy by next March. This is called for in the contract with the Woolworth Company.

The structure will face thirty feet on Main and run back 150 feet. The building will be built especially for the Woolworth Company. There will be large plate glass show windows with mirrors in the back, giving the best appearance to the front of the store. A large basement will be used for storage rooms. The building will be supplied with light, heat and water and will be up-to-date in all particulars.

Needs Proof

Dan Lebre, north of the city, has a dog that beats all the Paris Green that has ever been used in this county. The dog goes to the tobacco patch with Mr. Lebre and remains for eight hours and catches more tobacco worms than any person. Not satisfied with catching the big worms as fast as he comes to them, taking a row at a time, he then eats them. On account of paris green having been used on the tobacco the dog has become sick several times after going through the performance for several hours, but recovers in a short time and returns to his work. To further demonstrate the value of this dog in getting rid of the worms, a few days ago about 500 worms had been caught on a wager by a boy and laid in one pile to feed to the chickens. The canine came along and devoured them with as much grace as the owner would a watermelon and which had about the same effect.—Mayfield Messenger.
